LEGION HOLDS GET-TOGETHER

Veterans of World War and Women of the Auxiliary Enjoy Banquet and After-Dinner Speeches at Gathering Held Monday Evening at Headquarters

The Legion hall was the scene on Monday evening of a very successful get-together banquet of Andover Post, No. 8, American Legion, and the Ladies' Auxiliary. There were about one hundred and fifty members of both organizations present and a fine social evening was enjoyed.

A banquet was served at 7.30 by the caterer at the Andover Cafe, R. W. Pennell, with the following menu: fruit cocktail, roast chicken, mashed potatoes, peas, tomato salad, cranberry sauce, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee. Favors of paper hats were at each place. During the banquet Malcolm Lundgren's orchestra played popular songs and several of the wartime songs were sung.

Seated at the head table were Commander Frank Markey of the Legion, Mrs. Freeman Abbott, president of the auxiliary; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berry, Mrs. Fred Cheney, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien, state president of the auxiliary; James J. Mullen, judge advocate of the auxiliary; Comrade and Mrs. John Cummings of the G. A. R., Dr. C. M. Fues, Selectman and Mrs. Andrew McTernan and Joseph McCarthy, master of ceremonies.

Among the after-dinner speakers were: Selectman Andrew McTernan; Mrs. Fred G. Cheney, past president of the Legion Auxiliary; Hartley Calvert, past commander of the Lawrence Post; Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien, state president of the auxiliary; James J. Mullen, Jr., chairman of the speakers bureau of the Legion and judge advocate of the auxiliary, Mrs. Freeman Abbott, president of the auxiliary, and Commander Frank Markey. At the conclusion of her remarks bouquets of flowers were presented to Mrs. O'Brien by Mrs. Freeman Abbott in behalf of the auxiliary and by Frank Markey in behalf of the Legion.

Michael Byrnes and John Alexander, invited guests, gave several vocal selections and specialties and were repeatedly encouraged. Following the supper and speeches, dancing was enjoyed.

The committee in charge of the affair was Ralph Berry, Paul M. Cheney, Frank P. Markey, Ray Wilson and George Walsh.

I. O. O. F. 105th Anniversary

The 105th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship will be observed by Andover lodge, 230, in the New Fraternal building next Wednesday evening with a supper, entertainment and dance. The supper will be served in the banquet hall at 6.30 and all members intending to be present are asked to obtain their tickets from the committee on or before next Monday as no tickets will be sold after that date.

An excellent entertainment is being arranged followed by dancing until midnight with music by Lundgren's orchestra. The committee is Herbert W. Ford, noble grand, Bertram Stott, P. N. G., Harry Thomas, Claremont Gray, Alexander MacKenzie and George Brown.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Andover's First Woman's Fraternal Organization Observes Birthday With Appropriate Exercises

Indian Ridge Rebekah lodge has been in existence twenty years and at this time, which is also the anniversary of one hundred and five years of Odd Fellowship, it was very fitting to observe the two occasions as was done on Monday evening in the Fraternal hall.

Caterer Rhodes served a banquet in the dining hall which was attended by about seventy-five members of the order. Chicken pie, cold meat, mashed potato, peas, relishes, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

A program of entertainment followed consisting of a history of the lodge read by the secretary, Mrs. Carrie Conkey, and readings, solos and dances.

In her history Mrs. Conkey told of the beginning of the lodge in 1904 instituted by George D. Millett, Frank M. Smith and Frank L. Holt. It was the first woman's fraternal organization in Andover and was formally instituted on May 13, 1904 with twenty-six charter members, sixteen of whom were women and ten men. At the first initiation, 178 candidates joined and seven were admitted by card making the total membership 211. Since that time there have been many changes, some dying, some moving away or dropping out for other reasons, so that at the present time the membership is about the same.

The names of the noble grands of the lodge who have served since its organization are as follows, those marked with a star being deceased:

1904—Mrs. Edith E. Hardy.
1905—Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey.*
1906—Mrs. Emma L. Burt.
1907—Mrs. Ellen O. Eastman.*

SCHOOL DENTAL CLINIC

Measures to Improve Public Health Put in Operation Under Direction of Public Health Committee

The three weeks' dental clinic for the pupils of the first three grades of the public schools arranged under the auspices of the Andover Branch of the American Red Cross opened on Monday of this week.

Miss Margaret Fonos, head hygienist from the Forsyth Dental infirmary, Boston, is assisting by Miss Mary Kennedy, Miss Amelia Hughs and Miss Isabel MacIntyre also of the same institution. On Wednesday two more assistants were added to the working staff enabling them to increase the number of children examined in a day from fifty-six to eighty-four. In addition to the children of the first three grades, it is hoped to extend this service to all the children of the rural schools who will be brought to town by automobile.

No extracting or filling is done but the teeth of each child are cleaned and carefully examined and a written report of the treatment required is sent home to the parents. The importance of the teeth in relation to nutrition with its bearing upon the prevention of tuberculosis makes the care of teeth a matter of prime importance and such educational work as is now being accomplished by the dental clinic has long been the aim of those interested in the promotion of public health.

The large sunny room in the Pundarch building equipped for a chemistry laboratory with good light, running water, and electricity affords ideal accommodations for the work. During the short time the room is needed for laboratory purposes toothbrush drills will be given in the schoolrooms. One dentist's chair is brought by the nurses and other large chairs mounted on boxes to raise them to a convenient height and supplied with head-rests accommodate the little patients.

Miss Fonos reports that Andover children are very quiet and good and those whom the Townsman reporter saw mounted on the high chairs, bled under chin, were evidently enjoying this novel variation of school.

The rich bass voice of Thomas Parkinson was heard to advantage in the "Road to Mandalay" and he responded to an encore with "Caroline" the minstrels joining with him in the chorus. Jack Hill was also accorded a warm reception and gave an encore, "Stars of Argyle." The singing of William Stevens of Boston, heard for the first time in Andover, was most acceptable and he was heartily applauded.

One of the most taking numbers on the program was the dancing of little three-year-old Miss Katherine Burns of Lawrence, whose wonderful sense of rhythm and dainty dancing immediately wins the heart of any audience. Dancing of an entirely different type was the clog dancing of Mr. McCarthy.

Young Chris Murphy who has appeared in many minstrel shows has a way of singing and dancing all his own, and is very much at home on the stage.

Henry Fairweather, always popular with an Andover audience were the kilt and tartan and sang "O'chie", followed by "Bonnie Maggie Tamson" as only a Scot can sing it.

The topical song was by John Erving who was down on the program for "It Ain't Goin' to Rain no More."

The show will be repeated this evening.

"Gloria Fooled Them"

Miss Swanson is the star of the Paramount picture, "The Humming Bird," coming to the Colonial theatre next Monday and Tuesday, May 12-13.

They told Gloria Swanson she never could do it.

"Why, my dear," explained a studio chum, "you simply haven't the looks for it. You've a beautiful classic face with regular features, a complexion like wax, and a figure— You're just the ideal Mack Sennett bathing girl and you'd best resign yourself to looking about the California beaches the rest of your movie days."

That's what Miss Swanson's fellow-Sennettite told her in the days when Gloria was the chief reason why Mack is called the "Ziegfeld of the Movies."

But fortunately, Miss Swanson didn't listen to her—at least she didn't take her friend seriously. For already this strikingly beautiful Chicago girl, who had come to California and broken into pictures via the comedies had ambitions to succeed in the serious drama.

"I was never happy in comedy," Miss Swanson explained recently, when she was in New York on a brief vacation. "I had come to Los Angeles to do drama. I had been working in comedy at the Essanay studio in Chicago and I didn't like it. But I did like motion pictures and I wanted to succeed. When I came to the West Coast and found the only available opening was in comedy, I turned it down at first. After I thought it over, I decided any way of break in was better than no way and took the job."

It was not long before the producers began to agree with Gloria Swanson. Though she could pose superbly in a bathing suit, they discovered that she could wear the most exquisite Parisian models of evening dresses with the grace of a professional model and possessed the poise and bearing of a society dame. Moreover, they found that this eager woman with her expressive black eyes and ivory complexion was a real actress.

So Miss Swanson's opportunity to rise into the serious drama came quickly, and she seized it with both hands.

TREMONT THEATRE

"The Ten Commandments," a motion picture combining ancient spectacle and modern drama, produced by Cecil B. De Mille from a story by Jeanie Macpherson, is now in its third capacity month at the Tremont theatre, Boston.

The presentation with musical accompaniment has been arranged by Doctor Hugo Riesenfeld.

The making of the epic occupied ten months on various west coast locales and the services of more than 5000 persons. Previous movie records were eclipsed by the size of the buildings, the engineering feats, the variety and complexity of the scenes, and the reproduction from the Bible narrative of miracles it was thought no moving art could simulate. Among these are the Israelites' dry-shod passage between the walls of water of the Red Sea, and the giving of the Commandments on Mount Sinai.

Mr. De Mille's spectacular exordium pictures the Exodus with a view of the "New Kingdom" of the Pharaohs, the escape of the enslaved Children of Israel, and the work of Moses, their deliverer, in handing down the Law and enforcing it against the orgiastic Golden Calf idolatry.

In the story of today, the producer sets his modern scene for a group of five characters, contrasting reckless ambition with integrity and sacred with profane love. The scene is San Francisco. The exotic East impinges on the barrier betwixt yellow and white. The external, inescapable Law conquers as in Moses' day, but its stern justice is tinged by the mercy of Jesus' hope and healing.

Theodore Roberts as Moses, Charles De Roche as Pharaoh, Estelle Taylor, James

Neill, Lawson Butt, Julia Faye, Clarence Burton assume the principal roles in the ancient story. The four leads of the modern are played by Leatrice Joy, Rod La Rocque, Neil Mahoney, and Richard Dix, with Agnes Ayres in a short but beautiful episode.

There are daily matinees at 2.10 while the evening performances begin promptly at 8.10. A mail-order department has been set up in the Tremont theatre box-office where out-of-town folk are cared for in reservations.

PUNCHARD NOTES

Senior Ways and Means Committee
At a Senior Class meeting on Tuesday, May 6, it was decided to choose a committee of five to discover different ways of earning money for the class treasury.

The following students were chosen for the committee: Miss Florence Sanborn, Miss Lily Harris, Miss Evelyn Carter, Miss Helen Berry and Raymond Schlapp.

Punchard Defeats Reading
A large number of Punchard voters journeyed down to Reading, Wednesday afternoon to see the Punchard nine defeat the Reading High baseball team. The score was 10 to 4 in Punchard's favor, and Coach Lovely is confident that the team will do as well when it meets Methuen this afternoon on the home field.

Season tickets have been issued to all the members of Punchard who belong to the Athletic association. Anyone outside of the school may obtain a season ticket for one dollar.

"The Romantic Age" to Be Presented by Senior Class

Under the direction of Principal Nathan C. Hamblin, the members of the cast of the senior play, "The Romantic Age," which is to be presented in the town hall, June 6, have been rehearsing industriously during the last week.

The play will be given at a great expense, since a large royalty has to be paid. It is hoped that the returns will be sufficient to cover all expenses and put a large sum in the treasury to help pay for the Class book.

Tickets will soon be on sale.

Miss Dorothy Stevens Has High Rank at B. U.

Principal Hamblin recently read an account of record of Miss Dorothy Stevens, valedictorian of the Class '22 at Punchard, at the Boston University secretarial school. Miss Stevens takes seven subjects at college and received a mark of A or B in all of them.

Punchard 10-Reading 4

Dyer's fine pitching sent the Reading High team down to defeat at the hands of the Punchard High team at Reading Wednesday by a 10 to 4 score. He fanned 11 and although touched up for 10 hits, was invincible when hits meant runs.

DENTAL CLINIC OPENED

routine, being temporarily the center of attention of the attractive young nurses, attired in business-like uniforms and caps. The whiteness of their teeth at the end of the ceremony, was a matter of real pride and the resolutions to keep them in that condition were, for the moment at least, really sincere. A few nervous children have been excused from the clinic as it is not considered desirable to offer service to any except willing patients.

Statistics to date show that the teeth of six children out of every ten examined are in need either of filling or extracting. This is a good record as a fair average for children of that age is eight out of ten. Nearly every child in Andover is the possessor of a tooth brush, but parental supervision of its regular and frequent use is necessary for the best results.

Constant parental supervision is not always necessary, as was evidenced by the conversation which the Townsend reporter enjoyed with a bright youngster in Andover square the other noon. He himself opened the conversation with a lively account of a cat with one eye which he had just discovered. Having shown a proper interest in this absorbing subject, we asked where he went to school and having ascertained that he was a pupil in the first grade, further inquired if he had had his teeth cleaned at the dental clinic. The questioner was immediately rewarded with a generous display of incisors, looking strangely large for so small a youngster with gaps between them and the little first bicuspids where more second teeth were already pricking through, all immaculately clean and white.

"Mine are the cleanest of anybody's," because I had the buzzer," he volunteered.

"Have you a tooth brush, and do you brush them every day?"

"Yes indeed, three times a day. I scrub them hard until I feel them bend. It wouldn't do any good if I just touched them lightly, would it?" he wisely added.

The dental clinic will no doubt bear fruit in better teeth and better health for the children of Andover. Dr. Walker, school physician, invites parents of school children in all grades to visit the dental clinic during the coming week.

Before the close of the clinic, an evening lecture by a speaker from the Forsyth infirmary, will be arranged for the parents. It is promised that it will be entertaining as well as educational.

Miss Lawrence Receives Flattering Offer

Miss Edna Mae Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Lawrence of 4 Lewis street, to be graduated in June from the Music Supervisors' Course, State Normal School, Lowell, has been offered under the Juilliard Foundation, the distinguished honor of a scholarship at Fisk University, Nashville, Tennessee.

Miss Lawrence also has the offer to become Supervisor of Music in the Department of Public School and Community Music, City of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, under the personal direction of William M. Breach, President of the National Conference for Supervisors of Music.

The position to be filled is that vacated by William K. Johnson in order to return to Yale for his degree.

As well as being active musically as a member of the Music Club and Instructor of the Violin Class at the Bartlett Training School, having replaced Miss Eaton, now Assistant Supervisor of Music at Rochester, New York, Miss Lawrence is vice president of the Glee club and concert master of the school orchestra. She has appeared as vocalist and violinist in a series of three programs representative of music from the Classic, Romantic and Modern Schools, and was one fortunate enough to have Madame Schumann-Heink shake her hand.

In a series of lectures upon the general topic, "Teaching Ideals to Youth in a Democracy" arranged in order to give to students a fuller comprehension of the opportunities offered through the public schools of inculcating in our future citizens the higher ideals of human life, Miss Lawrence was solicited by Principal Clarence M. Weed, who so remarkably plans series of lectures on Educational Opportunities, to be one of two interpreters of "Love and Beauty in Literature."

Other speakers in the series are as follows: "Ideals of Justice and Fair Play Through Student Participation," Miss Helen D. Frechorn, Washington Junior High School, Rochester, N. Y.

"The Love of Literature," Miss Catherine Graham, State Normal School, Lowell.

"Ideals of Beauty in Art," Fred H. Daniels, Director of Art Education, Newton.

Knights and Catholic Daughters Attend Communion and Breakfast

More than 300 members of the K. of C. and Court Saint Monica, C.D. of A., attended the 8.30 mass at St. Augustine's church and received Holy Communion Sunday morning.

Rev. Fr. Francis A. Driscoll, president of Villanova College, was the celebrant of the mass and preached an appropriate sermon. B. J. Keaveny rendered a solo, "I Love to Hear My Saviour's Voice," at the offertory.

Following the mass the members marched to the K. of C. home on Chestnut street where breakfast was served by Caterer C. P. Weigel.

Rev. Fr. John A. Nugent O. S. A., chaplain, congratulated the members on the splendid spirit existing and expressed his gratification at the large number of new members gained during the past two years by the K. of C. and spoke particularly of the splendid growth of the C. D. A. in a little over one year's time.

Fr. Nugent was unable to attend the breakfast because of church duties but offered grace at breakfast.

Breakfast was then enjoyed, followed by addresses by Grand Knight Frank S. McDonald, Grand Regent, Miss Marie Daley, State Regent, Mrs. John Salmon of Boston, District Deputy, Miss Nellie Quigley, of Lawrence, Atty. Joseph L. Burns and Arthur Corbett, past chairman of the Common Cause society of Boston, who is now secretary to Mayor James J. Curley of Boston, who was unable to be present.

Solos were sung by B. J. Keaveny and Miss Margaret Webb of Lawrence, accompanied by Joseph A. McCarthy.

Guests at the breakfast included several officers of Court St. Joan of Arc of Lawrence; Grand Regent, Mrs. Benjamin Lianhan and Mrs. Frank Blanchard of Court Sacred Heart of Bradford; State Secretary Mrs. Marion Collins of Revere and Patrick J. Daley.

Communication

To the Editor of the Townsman:

I should like to call to the attention of any who may read this letter the unusual opportunity which is being offered in Mr. Fraser's lectures. From time to time we have been drawn to gatherings addressed by men eminent in one field or another—and we have frequently departed somewhat disillusioned as to eminence. To hear Mr. Fraser is not to be disillusioned. He has a vast fund of information, which he presents in an extremely clear and impartial way, rousing his audience to enthusiasm by the sheer worth of his offering.

His previous lectures have been on "The Traditional Foreign Policy of the United States" and "The Causes of the War." Tonight, at Punched hall, he gives his third, and last, lecture, this time on "International Relations—Economic and Political." There are few questions upon which it is so vital we get all the information we can get, as upon this persistent question of whether we should or should not cooperate with Europe, and, if we should cooperate, to what extent. Whatever his convictions, no one is going to admit a refusal to keep his mind open to facts, whether those facts support or oppose cooperation.

And facts are just what Mr. Fraser has shown himself unusually fitted by training and temperament to give, and what he will undoubtedly give tonight. If this lecture is the equal of those that have preceded it, I am confident that anyone, whatever the color or hue of his opinion, will depart with a mind enriched and stimulated. Andover is presented with a really unusual opportunity.

A Step Towards a Better and Healthier Andover

To the average robust layman, sound in mind and body, there seems very little romance in problems relating to the public health; yet it is doubtful whether any one of our local issues, — parks or roads or lighting or sewers, — is actually of more far-reaching importance. Furthermore there is probably no single field in which modern civilization has made more significant advances than in the discovery of methods for preventing and curing disease. The out-door treatment for tuberculosis, the inoculation for typhoid fever, the vaccination for smallpox, to say nothing of insulin and the anti-toxin for diphtheria, have prolonged and preserved countless valuable lives. Interest in this vital subject, we are glad to observe, has been increasing every year. The discussions at the last Town Meeting concerning the most effective disposal of garbage and the proper management of the public dump indicate that thoughtful citizens are on their guard to see that deleterious influences are removed. Today cities are frequently spoken of as either alert or inactive, depending on their attitude towards matters of this kind.

Andover may congratulate itself on having been a leader in most of these progressive movements. The town has always had generous and warm-hearted people who have responded liberally to any legitimate appeal for their funds or their enthusiasm. The tradition of enlightened community service is one which goes back for several generations, to the days when Philipps and Abbotts were invariably in the forefront of all good works. This spirit has never been allowed to wane, and informal agitation for the public welfare has been carried on by private individuals, quietly and unobtrusively, for many years.

The present situation in the town is far from unsatisfactory. For those who are not familiar with the system a few facts may be briefly stated. The Board of Health, which is the official organization of the voters and which has regularly been composed of intelligent, courageous, and high-minded citizens, has for some time been employing a nurse, who, as many have occasion to know, has fulfilled her duties conscientiously and efficiently. The Public Health Committee, now allied with the Andover Branch of the American Red Cross, has also been acting as an agency for the maintenance of good conditions and has been paying the salary of the District Nurse. The Board of Health Nurse and the District Nurse between them cover a large area of territory and divide a rather heavy responsibility. Their respective functions, however, differ, and have been so carefully outlined that they in no sense conflict. The daily program of one merely complements that of the other. Those who have been brought into contact with either or both of these women realize how faithfully they have been carrying out their arduous duties.

There is a new phase of the situation which must also be touched upon. During the next few weeks the Public Health Committee, with the unqualified approval of the School Committee, will maintain a dental clinic for all the local schools, for the benefit of those who wish to avail themselves of its privileges. Funds for this service are provided by this same committee, some members of which have volunteered to assist in arranging details. The clinic has the good will of local dentists and physicians. It should be added, also, that there is, of course, no compulsion of any kind in the schools and no infringement whatever upon personal liberty. The clinic simply offers without expense an exceptional opportunity to those who desire to use it.

The general sentiment today among medical societies is that treatment of the teeth at an early age is a most important factor in the prevention of disease in later life. An expert declared only a day or two ago that 80 percent of the physical defects in children may be attributed to poor teeth, and that the first reform in public health must begin with the mouth. Upon this theory alone a dental clinic in the schools is justified. It is believed by those in charge that the small amount of money involved is being put into the finest kind of an investment, — an investment in the boys and girls of the community. The Townsman gladly adds its endorsement to the plan, and sees in it one more step towards making Andover a better and healthier town.

Editorial Cinders

A communication in another column makes to the Townsman, a very pointed suggestion for one way in which it can be of considerable service to the community. Actually, the Townsman has maintained a clearing house for dates for a great many years. It has been a sort of semi-official proposition, complete only insofar as the kindness of the Townsman enabled her to ferret out information as to future dates, or as the foresightedness of committee chairmen prompted them to telephone that information to her. Prompted by the communication, for which the writer is sincerely thanked, the Townsman places definitely before the town, an opportunity to prevent, as far as possible, entertainments or services occurring on dates so as to conflict with each other. This can be accomplished effectively only by the complete cooperation of all the organizations of the town. As soon as you know the date of an approaching public gathering, telephone it to the Townsman office, where it will be recorded. The Townsman in turn, will be able to give you information as to any other public gatherings which may have already been scheduled for the same evening. With very little effort, the organizations of the town can be spared much worry and inconvenience, preventing as it should if proper cooperation is forthcoming, the occurrence of more than one large gathering in any one evening. Several times in the last month, two, and in one case, even three public gatherings were planned for the same evening. The Townsman is more than willing to continue to do its part to prevent such unfortunate occurrences. It asks only, that you do yours.

Mother's day comes on Sunday. The Townsman believes that most of us will see in it, an opportunity to honor the one person in all the world who, has done more for us than any other, our mother.

Andover

Addition to Andover National Bank

A two-story addition at the rear of the Andover National Bank building is in process of construction. This increased floor space is made necessary by the expansion of business both of the National bank and the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company.

The new space on the first floor will afford room for the bookkeeping department and additional space for the safe deposit vaults. When the Andover Savings bank moves to its new building in July, those rooms will also be added to the banking rooms of the National bank. The stairway to the second floor will be moved to the extreme northerly end of the building, making one large, commodious room.

On the second floor, about 2800 square feet of floor space will be added to the offices of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company.

The National Bank has recently acquired the property on Central street at one time the home of Miss Margaret Gray.

In the process of excavating, preparatory to the erection of the new addition, the foundations of the greenhouses once owned by Mr. Nice were unearthed, and at the depth of more than seven feet, foundations of a building of a prior date were found, showing the marked alteration in the grade of the land during the last century.

Townsman to Cooperate as Clearing House for Future Dates

Since Andover is growing, not only in population but in social activities, it has occurred to the writer that a "Social Clearing-house" might be of value here. So often some organization spends time, labor and money in planning some festivity only to learn with disappointment and chagrin that some other society has also chosen that particular night for its function. Much of this inconvenience might be avoided if such a clearing-house were established and dates for future events posted with the Secretary. Here one might apply for open dates and could then go forward with plans, feeling reasonably sure that there would be little competition. Miss Goldsmith of the Townsman has expressed herself as willing to act as Secretary in cases there is a demand for her services. No organization would need to be formed. There is wanting only the cooperation of the various societies in town that might find this plan of use.

To Lecture on Miracles of Modern Medicine

The Andover Public Health Committee held its annual meeting at the home of Dr. Claude M. Fuess on Sunday, May 4, and re-elected for a term of three years the following members: Dr. Claude M. Fuess, Dr. W. Dacre Walker, Dr. Charles E. Abbott, Miss Anna Kuhn, and Frederick H. Jones.

The committee deems itself very fortunate in having procured for the speaker at its open meeting which will be held at the November Clubhouse on Thursday evening, May 15 at 8 p.m., Dr. Ernest Harold Baynes who will speak on "Miracles of Modern Medicine." Dr. Baynes is an eminent national scientist who has recently been writing articles for "The Outlook" and "World's Work" on vivisection. He is Field Secretary of the "Friends of Medical Progress" of which the following are officers: Honorary president, Charles W. Eliot; acting president, Thomas Barbour of the Agassiz Museum, Cambridge; secretary, Edward Wigglesworth, Director of Boston Museum of Natural History; treasurer and assistant secretary, Mary Lee Thurman, with Dr. James Rowland Angell, Hon. Chas. Evans Hughes, Dr. Ellen F. Pendleton, Ernest Thompson Seton and Owen Wister as honorary vice presidents.

The Friends of Medical Progress Inc. is a national lay society organized in 1923 " (1) to encourage and aid all research and human experimentation for the advancement of medical science; (2) to inform the public of the truth concerning the value of scientific medicine to humanity and to animals; (3) to resist the efforts of the various persons and societies constantly urging legislation dangerous to the health and well-being of the American people."

The lecture by Dr. Baynes will be free to everyone in Andover and promises to be unusually interesting as Dr. Baynes who is an exceedingly interesting speaker will illustrate his lecture with the stereopticon. The public is urged to avail itself of this rare opportunity, and to give it publicity.

Work Begun on Showers at Pynchard

Work is in progress on the dressing rooms and shower baths for the use of the athletic teams at the Pynchard school, and it is hoped that they will be completed and ready for use in a few days.

The room used as a dressing room in the boys' basement has been equipped with thirty lockers for the boys and two special lockers for the coach, and a second room across the corridor is similarly equipped for the use of visiting teams.

A large copper boiler with Lion heater and mixer for the shower baths has also been installed ensuring hot water at all hours. Up to the present time hot water for the lavatories has been dependent upon steam from the general heating system. The shower baths, five in number, will be in the boys' lavatory. The separating partitions have been built by the boys of the manual training department.

School Committees Meet

The date for the Lincoln spelling match has been postponed from May 16 to May 23, and Andover parents interested are asked to notice the change of date.

The janitors of the different schools were re-elected as follows: Central schools, John Ralph, Thomas P. Dea and Fred Collins; Indian Ridge, Alexander Dick; Brudlee, James McGhie; West Center, Granville K. Cutler; North, John Crowley; Bailey, Edward Ellis; Osgood, George Spickler; Richardson, George Addison.

A whist party will be held in the Town hall next Thursday afternoon beginning at two o'clock for the purpose of raising funds to assist in defraying the expenses of entertaining veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic who will hold their National Convention in Boston on August 12.

The veterans will be the guests of the Department of Massachusetts which has given this state the reputation of being the only one in the Union to entertain the veterans at luncheon without assessing their guests. The G. A. R. holds a convention in this state only once in fifteen years and as this is in all probability the last time veterans will gather in Boston, it is planned to show them every courtesy and attention.

November Club Elects Officers

The same officers who served last year, with the exception of two new directors to fill the vacancies caused by expired terms, were re-elected at the annual meeting of the November Club held Monday afternoon at the clubhouse.

The officers who were elected for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. John C. Angus; first vice president, Mrs. John L. Phillips; second vice president, Mrs. K. N. C. Barnes; recording secretary, Mrs. Philip F. Ripley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. V. Bigelow; treasurer, Mrs. L. E. Lynde; directors for three years, Mrs. Alden S. Foss and Mrs. Katharine M. Pinckney. Other officers are Miss Mabel M. Carter and Miss Amelia Shapleigh, directors for one year; Mrs. Charles W. Henry, Mrs. H. Gilbert Franke, directors for two years.

Ninety-seven ballots were cast, an unusually good attendance at an annual meeting.

The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted and reports were given by the chairmen of the departments and committees.

Eleven meetings have been held by the music department with an average attendance of twenty-four. The compositions of Mozart, Brahms and Franz have been the subject of study and at each meeting there has been a short literary program with papers on the life and letters of some composer or comments on his music. The report for this department was by Mrs. Joseph N. Ashton.

Mrs. Frances P. McClellan told of the study of the department of art which has increased its enjoyment and understanding of art by a broad comparison of pictures of similar subject with special reference to symbolism and iconography. Some time was also devoted to the study of the work of artists of today. On Monday last week, a trip was enjoyed to the Fogg and Germanic museums and the glass-blowing factory in Cambridge.

The club's oldest department and the one about which much of the club life centered in former years, the literature department, has sadly dwindled in numbers according to the report of Miss Julia E. Twichell. The serious study of American Colonial literature has failed to attract new members during the past year and in an effort to make the department more popular, the program for next year will include reviews of the books of the hour.

Mrs. H. Winthrop Peirce reported for the department of drama, which with an attendance of between twenty and thirty, has studied various plays with special attention to their construction and staging and vital interest expressed in ways other than by mere dialogue.

For the department of civics, Mrs. Horace M. Poynter reported a membership of fifty-two club members in addition to several others who held season tickets or attended occasionally. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will be the lecturer again during the coming season. The public service committee has continued its work of making infants' clothes to be used as required by the district nurse. The annual Christmas party was given at the Town home and one hundred and fifty children were entertained at the clubhouse at Christmas time.

The report of the clubhouse committee was given by Mrs. Joseph A. Rand, that for the committee on teas by Mrs. Claude M. Fues, and that of the open house committee by Mrs. Frank M. Benton. Although the open house afternoons have been much enjoyed by those who took advantage of the opportunity, the small attendance does not warrant the club in continuing the practice. At the close of the business meeting, tea was served with Mrs. Fred H. Eaton and Mrs. Frederic N. Chandler pouring.

Police Court Notes

Several autoists appeared before Judge C. J. Stone, Tuesday at the session held in police court.

The offenders were: John B. White of Belmont, who was found guilty of speeding and fined $10. Fred Gilman of Lowell was also fined $10 on the same charge.

John C. Cheavare, John J. McGinnis, and Charles McCarthy, all of Lowell, were each fined $5 for parking without lights near the West cemetery.

The police officials of Portsmouth, N. H., notified the Andover police on Wednesday that a Ford touring car listed to James Cuthill of 72 High street had been recovered on Lafayette road, that city. The car was stolen on Monday between 8 and 10.45 o'clock while parked on Abbot street.

A. V. I. S. to Make Drive for New Members

Under the chairmanship of President William A. Trow, a committee is about to launch a drive for additional members for the Andover Village Improvement Society. In a town of 8,000 there are surely more than 200 persons interested in a better cleaner and more beautiful Andover.

The increased cost of labor already hampers the society in carrying on work which it has undertaken, not to mention new projects upon which the executive committee would like to make a beginning.

Additional revenue is necessary to carry on the work of the society, so everyone interested in a better and more beautiful Andover should stand ready, when approached by a member of the committee, to enroll himself, as an annual member or better still, as a life member.

Satan himself, the imp of the lower regions, and a crowd of merry devils, assisted by the agents of evil and the seven deadly sins made merry at the Town hall last Friday evening. Staged in the devil's grotto, the Knights of Columbus minstrel show was the most original performance of the kind ever given by a local organization. The curtain rose on a scene representing the darkness and gloom of the nether regions, with lightning flashes and ominous sounds to further enhance the scene. Satan in his majesty on a high throne was seen in the dimness of the background, and following the dance of the skeletons and parade of the imps, he came forth and proclaimed his rule over the world.

Then entered the agents of evil, Dishonesty, Greed, Intemperance, Falsehood, Sloth, Debauchery, Heresy and Blasphemy, each boasting of his accomplishments on earth in bringing victims to Satan. They were followed by eight young women, gorgeously attired, who represented the deadly sins, Pride, Covetousness, Passion, Anger, Selfishness, Envy, and Malice, who were praised by their master and given seats of honor in the grotto as a reward for their work.

Satan's merry devils appeared in a dance and through a subway, the premier devils, Eugene Zalla and Jimmy Bateson slid onto the stage and the revelry started.

The good time of the Evil One and his satellites, however, came to an end and in the epilogue, St. Michael and the angels and cherubim with the aid of the Cross and through its power, swept away the powers of evil in a beautiful tableau in which a large cross of gold was the central figure. The lighting scheme was a very effective one, both in the prologue and epilogue, while the music, selected by Director Flannery, was very appropriate.

Following the usual jokes and songs by the end men, various specialties were introduced including solos by Mrs. Mary Caldwell Harris, Miss Elizabeth Smith and Michael Byrnes. Miss Mildred Towler and Miss Ethel Juhl gave several dances which were greeted with hearty applause. All these young ladies received beautiful bouquets.

Bill Daly gave a sketch that touched on local and national affairs and his efforts were accorded a warm reception.

As his satanic majesty and interlocutor, Frank McBride had a large share in the success of the affair. Miss Angeline McCarthy was the efficient accompanist.

James Flannery of the local council, Knights of Columbus, not only directed the show, but also designed and painted the scenery. In the latter task, he was assisted by Eugene Zalla, premier end.

Following the show, the hall was cleared and dancing was enjoyed until midnight to music furnished by Millington's orchestra.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be given to the St. Augustine's parochial school fund.

The members of the committee of arrangements were: Chairman, Frank McBride; secretary, Henry Dolan, Michael Lynch, Harold Newcomb, Misses Emma Cote, Edna Cote, Elizabeth Hurley, Katherine Hurley, Margaret Ronan, Blanche Charon, Eugene Zalla and James Flannery. Electrical work: Frank Keefe and Joseph Remmes.

Stage director: William Tammany.

Those who took part were as follows:

Skeletons: William McDonald and Alan Polgreen.

Imps: James Ronan, C. Delaney, Aubrey Polgreen, John O'Neil, William Crowley, Edward Dwyer, William Macartney and J. Shiebler.

Satan: Frank McBride.

Agents of Evil: Dishonesty, H. Germain; Intemperance, William Dolan; Greed, M. Lynch; Falsehood, J. Nelligan; Sloth, J. Darby; Debauchery, L. Ronan; Heresy, Gus Riley; Blasphemy, Thomas Fallon.

Frederick Boutwell, then in a very pleasing way, told of the reasons for the gathering, of the esteem in which West Parish held Mr. and Mrs. Wright and at the close of his remarks presented Mr. and Mrs. Wright with a sum of money to which all had contributed. Mr. Wright responded, followed by a few words from Mrs. Wright. Then Mrs. Hubert Mayo read an interesting poem entitled "Mr. and Mrs. Wright in West Parish." Essex County Fruit Growers Organized

The field meeting held for fruit growers at the farm of George Averill was well attended, there being about 50 of the most influential growers in the county present.

Following the very practical and instructive demonstration on spraying by Professor F. E. Cole, County Agent Bertram Tomlinson proceeded with the matter of organizing the fruit growers of Essex County. He discussed the value of such an organization, and what it would mean to the fruit growers and the industry as a whole in the county, citing the Nashoba Fruit Growers Association of Middlesex County as an example. The Nashoba Fruit Growers Association has long been active in promoting the industry and recently started a co-operative packing and grading association to the advantage of its members.

A unanimous vote to form an association was taken and the constitution and by-laws which were drawn up by a special committee previous to the meeting was accepted in full.

The following officers were elected: R. N. C. Barnes, Andover, president; Frank N. Rand, Merrimack, vice president; B. Tomlinson, Danvers, secretary; C. W. Emerson, Haverhill, treasurer. These officers, with two additional men, P. I. Livingston, Andover and C. A. Leach of Wrentham will constitute the Executive Committee.

Article II of the Constitution and by-laws state that "The objects of the Essex County Fruit Growers Association shall be to help create a better understanding and fellowship among fruit growers of Essex County by holding meetings for the purpose of receiving latest information on orchard practices and to take any united action which may result in a more efficient production or marketing of fruit."

This new association has already been assured of the hearty cooperation of the Massachusetts Fruit Growers Association, which has offered to help in any way possible. Already plans are under way to arrange for a big summer field meeting of fruit growers from all over the state to meet in Essex County, under the auspices of the state and county associations. Every fruit grower in the county is invited to support the association by becoming a member and taking part in the constructive work planned.

Fires

A Ford sedan owned by Jesse West and stored in the garage at 23 Summer street owned by Fred Swanton was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. A car owned by Mr. Swanton was also in the garage but was removed to a place of safety by the firemen.

The building itself is a three-story cement garage and the damage was slight. The fire was discovered by Hyman Hurwicz who happened to be passing shortly after midnight and he gave the alarm at the engine house.

On Sunday afternoon an alarm from Box 49 called the department to a chimney fire at the home of E. F. Stickney, 49 Pine street. The damage was slight.

EDITORIAL

With the campaign to remove unsightly advertising signs from America's roads well under way, attention may well be turned to the character of signs and sign posts marking roads to show their destination and distances.

The historic "sign post" is of wood, with a board nailed to the side, ending in a rude representation of a pointing hand. The board bears upon its face, usually in weather-obiterated letters, the name of the next town.

Such a marker was all right for a trail, or a wagon road, but is as much out of place on a fine, hard road as on an ox cart among automobiles. Modern practice dictates that road signs and posts should be permanent, slightly, plain as to information conveyed, sturdy, and artistic.

For national highways, a beautiful bronze sign post has already been designed by a famous sculptor. Road associations interested in some particular road have adopted distinctive markers, in many cases of a high degree of art and beauty, as well as utility. The Old Oregon Trail, for instance, which it is proposed to improve from the Missouri to the Columbia, is now in process of being marked with signs of real beauty and significance. Professor Fairbanks, of the University of Oregon, designed the marker, showing a typical covered wagon and pioneer family of early western days. Such a sign is particularly appropriate for this trail, which is the route followed by early-day pioneers in their ox-team emigration from the Eastern States to Oregon and Washington in the late forties and early fifties.

It is not necessary to wait for some large association to design or place markers. Every town can help by seeing to it that the sign posts along its entering and leaving roads are plain as to intent, yet handsome and distinctive. Placing such markers embodies the spirit of welcome to the tourist, which is "good business" for any town, and is most excellent work for local civic organizations to take up and follow through.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION OF CITY TO-DAY HIGHWAY CONDITION OF FUTURE

"Plan Today's Highways for Tomorrow" Should Be Slogan

Traffic congestion in large cities brings forth many unusual and ingenious remedies. Baltimore, like Boston, is considering the three-day-a-week idea, by which cars with even license numbers can park downtown on even dates and those with odd numbers can use the downtown streets on odd dates. San Francisco is considering the erection of a skyscraper garage for all-day parking, to relieve the congestion of downtown streets.

Most cities which have experimented with the restricted parking idea have found it more or less of a failure. A town which has ten thousand automobiles parked in its business district, cannot "one-day" parking law. If the law is observed, ten thousand cars are moved from one place to another every hour. But they are not removed from the restricted area, only shifted around in it. Merchants who have been most heartily in favor of restricted parking, claiming that cars parked in front of the places of business keep away shoppers, are in many localities reversing themselves, finding that restricted parking keeps shoppers away from their localities and results in decentralized shopping districts.

The parking and traffic problem of the cities, now in an acute stage, is to some extent a forerunner of the traffic and parking problem of the highway as it will be in the future. Well traveled main roads are now demonstrated in many cases to be far too narrow. Many main arteries of travel between large cities are now being widened at a great expense, which could largely have been avoided had plans been made ten years ago for such widening. New roads are wisely built when plans for expansion are made at the time of building.

GOVERNMENT AGAINST GRADE CROSSINGS

Federal-Aid Roads Avoid Deadly Intersections When Possible

As a forerunner to the policy of the National Government when it shall begin to build and maintain a system of national highways, the Federal-Aid Act, as administered by the Bureau of Public Roads, is being made the vehicle for the elimination of grade crossings wherever possible.

Where elimination is not possible, certain restrictions and rules are provided designed to increase safety at danger points. Among these is the provision that the road at the crossing be wide enough for two vehicles to pass when automobiles are approaching from opposite directions meet at a crossing.

The view at a railroad crossing should, when possible, be unobstructed for 1,000 feet in each direction along the tracks; the approaching motorist should have this view for 300 feet before reaching the crossing. Highways at a railroad crossing should be as nearly level as possible, since a steep grade up to a crossing increases the chances of a motorist stalling on the track. Highways should cross railroads at right angles, not on a diagonal line, which keeps the vehicle in the line of danger longer than one which runs straight across.

GOOD ROADS AFFECTING HOUSE ARCHITECTURE IN THE COUNTRY

Better Farm Living Results from Hard Surface Highways

According to statistics compiled in the building trades, a decided increase in the use of permanent building materials has been noted in country districts and the building of farm houses. The shortage of timber accounts for this only in part, since stone and brick and cement are more expensive building materials than lumber.

Farmers can now build farm houses of non-burnable materials because good roads make it possible for them to haul such materials from a distance without a prohibitive expense. The American farmer is a sensible, hardheaded practical man. He has not endured the greatest home fire hazards of any nation for years because he knew no better, but because he found it too expensive to overcome the risk by substituting for the easy-to-get timber, the hard-to-import stone, brick, tile, cement.

With the advent of better roads, and the coming of the automobile truck, he is finding it increasingly possible to erect his farm house of fireproof material without paying too great a price for haulage of materials. He is also finding it good business to erect a more pretentious house on land which has increased materially in value through the influence of better roads.

Better houses, better fireproofing, better land values, better transportation, better profits on farm produce: they are all by-products of the hard road, which, in the long run, is not an expense to the taxpayer, but a source of profit.

ESSEX COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL NOTES

Poultry Field Day at Georgetown

Poultry Club members in the northeastern part of Essex County had an opportunity to see a commercial poultry plant in action, on May 1. Professor A. W. Richardson, of the University of New Hampshire, has a poultry plant at Georgetown, and he very kindly invited the poultry-club boys to visit the place. He arranged to meet them personally and talk with them. This was a sacrifice on his part, as he is a very busy man and the boys well appreciated his efforts. The morning was showery and many telephone calls from some of the boys indicated the doubt as to whether the field day would be held. It seemed best to hold the event and at 11.30 about thirty-five boys arrived at the farm. The boys came from Amesbury, Newburyport, Byfield, Georgetown, Boxford, Topsfield, Groveland, South Groveland, and Haverhill.

The first hour was given over to a lively baseball game. Then Professor Richardson gave the boys a very valuable talk on poultry. He explained his scheme of poultry breeding and also stressed his belief in feeding more scratch feed than is the usual custom, considering that such a practice helps keep the birds in better condition.

The boys inspected the plant from incubator cellar where 4880 eggs are set in one machine, out over the range where 3600 chicks are growing and through the big laying house where 1200 layers are kept. Then after some more baseball the boys scattered for home, after giving their host three good husky cheers as a token of their gratitude.

School Establishes Summer Camp

The new arrangements for housing the boys who are employed at the School during the summer months were put into operation on May 1. The large dormitory with sleeping accommodations for twenty-five boys has been equipped with electric lights and other conveniences which will be greatly appreciated by the boys. "Joe" Cassano of Groveland, Essex Aggie '20 and M. A. C. '24, has been engaged as Camp Director, and Mrs. George Elliott of Hathorne will prepare and serve the meals in the School lunchroom.

The camp has been christened Camp Bauer in honor of Ralph S. Bauer of Lynn, President of the Board of Trustees. The boys who work on the School Farm this summer are assured of excellent living conditions, together with the usual recreational features of camp life. The boys already living at the Camp are: Richard Ashton of Salem; Sidney Butler of Methuen; Stuart Cogswell of Essex; Albert Egerton of Beverly; Henry Ellis of Wakefield; Kenneth Harnden of Saugus; Maurice Headley of Newburyport; Donald Lewis of Nahant; Roscoe Mackenna of Lynn; Aaron Porter of Beverly; George Stickney of Haverhill; Harry Tucker of Beverly; Aubrey Vaughan of Lynn; Fred Walker, Jr., of Marblehead; George Ward of Saugus; and Arthur Wentworth of Lynn.

School Library Reorganized

Miss Pamela F. Robbins of Falmouth, has nearly completed the work of reorganizing the School library. Miss Robbins has had a wide experience in library work and is supplied by the Division of Public Libraries of the Massachusetts State Board of Education. In addition to a complete reorganization of the book material, Miss Robbins has installed a new system of filing agricultural pamphlets and bulletins. The library is now well organized and will be in charge of the School librarian, Miss Alice Ober of Wrentham.

Basketball Captain Elected

Chester Hansen of Beverly has been elected captain of the 1925 Essex Aggie basketball team. Hansen has won his letter several times in both football and basketball and he is very popular among his school mates. The team is assured of another successful season under his leadership.

FORGET NOT—RECREOT NOT

She told that I sang to her.
But I could not;
I would that I sang to you.
But ye would not;
And yet, my heart is full of song,
Though it is not
Free from the burdens which belong
To it not;
And through them my refrain ascends
To yours not;
Those hearts which beat with mine,
And know not
That I exist, and love, and ache;
Because, not
Having known the one I love
And see not,
I ache and sing, then years and hopes
And cease not;
Because I AM and CONSCIOUSNESS
Does end not.
Go thou thy way, sweet,
And regret not;
I must go mine, dear,
And forget not.

SHAWSHEEN WOMAN'S CLUB

Officers Elected For Ensuing Year— Changes in Constitution and By-Laws Voted Upon

The Shawsheen Village Women's club held its Annual Meeting Monday evening in Balmoral hall at 7:45 with Mrs. George H. Winslow presiding. This meeting closed the season, which will reopen in October. In the absence of the recording secretary, who is ill, Miss Margaret Curran acted in that capacity.

The amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws submitted at the April meeting were acted upon. It was voted that no change should be made in the present arrangements for serving refreshments at the meetings. The number of hostesses was increased from twelve to fifteen.

Reports from committees were read and accepted.

The state meeting will be held at Swampscott May 14, 15 and 16 and Mrs. George H. Winslow and Mrs. W. A. Gabel will act as delegates. Mrs. Gabel was also appointed as inspector at that meeting. Members of the club who wish to attend may do so and should secure tickets from Mrs. Winslow. The state my name, "Federation Topics", may be subscribed for by notifying the president.

It was announced that the annual children's party would be held in June.

A sum of money was set aside for the purchase of a flag for the Shawsheen Girl Scouts.

The annual election of officers took place and the following persons will serve the club during the coming year:

Mrs. George H. Winslow, president; Mrs. William A. Trow, vice president; Mrs. C. B. Robbins, second vice president; Mrs. E. D. Porter, recording secretary; Mrs. C. A. Hardy, corresponding secretary; Miss Edith Donald, treasurer; and Mrs. George M. Wallace and Mrs. Charles Wiggin, board of directors.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess committee: Mrs. James R. Mosher, Mrs. George B. Murray, Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. Alexander Noble, Mrs. Harry C. North, Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, Mrs. Howard M. Patten, Miss Miriam Patten, Mrs. James J. Payton, Mrs. Moses Pendleton, Mrs. Harold L. Peters and Miss Isabelle Peters.

Andover's Vetoing Power

President Coolidge has just vetoed a new pension bill sponsored by Senator Bursum. In so doing he has thrown into conspicuous relief two radically different types of mind in America—types which we find here in Andover as well as over the entire country. Mr. Coolidge believes in hard work, thrift, economy and financial independence. Mr. Bursum, on the other hand, believes in ease, extravagance and financial dependence upon others. Mr. Coolidge considers every question in its relation to the whole people. Mr. Bursum considers every question as it relates to a class only. Mr. Coolidge recognizes the priority of material values as essential to social advancement. Mr. Bursum thinks in terms of social values regardless of financial stability. Mr. Coolidge would ease the overburdened taxpayer. Mr. Bursum would further increase the taxpayers' burden. Mr. Coolidge would subordinate sentiment to financial soundness. Mr. Bursum would subordinate financial soundness to sentiment. Mr. Coolidge would give the right of way to ideas fundamental. Mr. Bursum would give the right to ideals that cut squarely athwart fundamentals. Mr. Coolidge is a statesman. Mr. Bursum is a politician.

Here, then, we have two radically different types of mind thrust before the attention of the country. Who of us fails to recognize them? In fact, are they not in our own town and vocal in all our town meetings? Conspicuously so, at our last town meeting. I am clearly within bounds when I affirm that every level-headed business man in this country is squarely behind this veto of President Coolidge; they endorse to the hilt his wise financial policy. Equally within bounds am I when I affirm that every level-headed business man in Andover, were his convictions vocalized, would veto the action of our last town meeting. It is high time that these level-headed business men of Andover realized that they can no longer absent themselves from our town meeting nor allow their own business to absorb all their concerns. A large obligation rests upon them to aid their fellow townsmen in putting the veto upon the exorbitant demands yearly made upon our exchequer. Just now the Bursum type of mind is in the saddle and every indulgence serves only to sharpen their appetite; there is absolutely no saturation point to their demands. They rely for their success upon the indifference and apathy of the business men of the town. The sensitive heart of the uninformed voters. Andover holds scores of men who have been judgment and executive ability but at present these qualities stand at the back of their own personal business. Town affairs stand wholly outside the circle of their immediate concern. The suggestion that they contribute toward the solving of town problems is met with the reply:—"Oh, I haven't the time."

Their presence on their own job yields them money returns far in excess of any increase in their town taxes year by year, hence they give little concern to the actual doings at town meetings. These men are not selfish, they are only thoughtless. Once made to see the town's need of their services, they will be quick to give it.

Surely the need of their aid was never more urgent than just now. Andover can no longer afford to allow only one twentieth of its voters indiscriminately to vote away the town's money. They, however, they will continue to do at the rate of $30,000 or $40,000 a year increase over its normal budget as they have continuously done for the last ten years unless checked by the combined and seasoned judgment of her business men. Andover needs more of the Coolidge type of mind and less of the Bursum type of mind in the conduct of her affairs. It is my earnest hope that before our next annual town meeting the business men of Andover will have the willingness and the courage to veto some of our present-day demands.

Phillips Andover 2—Dean Academy 4

The Phillips Andover Academy baseball team lost its first game of the season Wednesday afternoon to Dean Academy after winning six straight games. The score was 4 to 2. Coach Daly pulled a big surprise when he kept three regular pitchers on the bench at the opening and sent Arthur Parisien in to pitch. He was later replaced by Shoon.

Dean drew first blood in the second inning when they tallied a single run. The teams were scoreless after that until the sixth when Dean punched in his final three runs. Andover came back with one in the sixth and added their final score in the eighth.

Nolan pitching for Dean, allowed Andover six hits, none of them for extra bases, and Dean got but four hits off Parisien and Shoon. The Dean smashes were more opportunistic, however. Andover players misported three times during the engagement.

The Franklin school has one of the strongest nines in its history and has lost but one game this season. Since last week's victory over the Yale Junior Varsity the Andover line-up has undergone radical changes. Dudley, the first string catcher, is out temporarily with a bad ankle and Jones, center field, recently injured his knee in practice. Coach Daly furthermore decided to try Parisien's ability as a pitcher and moved him in from the outfield to work on the mound. Smith held his position in the field. C. Layton replaced Billhardt on third.

All went well until the sixth inning when Parisien weakened and together with an unfortunate error, three Dean men were allowed to score. At this point Shoon was sent in to relieve Parisien, but the damage had been done and the visitors' four-run lead could not be overcome.

Nolan pitched the entire game for Dean.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE WINS

First Game in Series Played on Saturday Results in Easy Victory by Three Goals Over Boston League

The first of a series of two games between the pick of the Industrial League and the Boston League was played Saturday at Balmoral field, resulting in an easy victory for the Industrial League team by three goals.

The Industrial League team out-played the Boston eleven by superior teamwork who at no stage of the game were ever hard pressed for any length of time. At times the Boston outfit would strike the "Indy" defense but Ross and Cosgrove had little difficulty in driving the visitors back.

Aided by the wind in the first half, the Industrial League team pressed strongly but the wind did not help them in any trying to keep the ball under control which at times got away from them. Whenever the front-line marksmen did get an opportunity to drive, Koss was there to bring off a good remarkable save. Indeed the St. George goalie was seen at his best and the good things said about him during the week were true.

Try as they would, the Industrial team could not penetrate the Boston defense in the first period and the teams turned around at the interval with the score-sheet blank. When Smith opened the scoring five minutes after the resumption in the second half, the Boston team seemed to fall off considerably and there was only one team in it.

The second goal by Carrie culminated after some clever play by Quinn and Smith on the left and it was a puzzling move by Carrie that whirled in and beat Roscoe at the foot of the upright—one of those drives with sufficient "English" on it, well driven by a "Scot", that has Roscoe beaten outstretched on the ground.

Just before the close, another left flank movement by Smith and Quinn found the Arlington wall player placing inside to Smith, the inside left drew the goal-tender out and finished by kicking the ball into an open net. This ended the scoring which could have been larger had the Industrials extended themselves.

The next game will be played in Boston.
